Press Release

Orbium partners with NetGuardians for extended operational risk mitigation in Avaloq core banking platforms

Zurich, 16 July 2014 – Orbium, the business and IT consulting company focusing exclusively on the financial services industry, announces a worldwide partnership with NetGuardians to bring a cross-platform operational risk mitigation software solution to banks and wealth managers.

The NetGuardians NG|Screener software uses intelligent behavioral analysis to continuously monitor business lines and IT activities. Many financial institutions face the challenge of growing needs for internal control and real-time continuous auditing to promote compliance with new regulatory requirements for operational risk. The solution provided is highly customisable, and provides in-depth visibility to both security and audit functions.

Orbium brings its large client network, deep IT security expertise, and its extended consulting capabilities to the partnership, and will deliver the NG|Screener solution across its regional offices.

“Our clients recognize NG|Screener’s flexibility to smoothly adapt to any banking platform. This is perfectly in keeping with our offer including ready-to-integrate packaged versions for all major core banking platforms. We are extremely pleased to have concluded our partnership with Orbium which is a leader in IT and Business consulting in financial industry” said Joël Wintereg, CEO, NetGuardians.

“Orbium are relied on to deliver highly complex technology projects incorporating leading IT security frameworks. We are delighted to add another best-in-class offering, in addition to our proprietary software products, to help our clients benefit from the most robust technology in the market.” said Olivier Schneider, Partner, Orbium.
